DISCLAIMER

The Auction company and its representatives have endeavored to present a actual representation of the books, booklets etc that are on each shelf or within each box including correct spelling of both titles and authors that we have listed and whether they are 1st editions. Some groups were too numerous to list all items so we have listed topics. We have also tried to give you an accurate count, but booklets & pamphlets may not have always been counted or we may have miscounted. So the count may only be a close approxima-tion of the actual number of books, etc that are located within or on the shelf, drawer or box. We will try to make sure items pulled out for review are returned to the proper lot but we are not responsible if they are not. Please watch your own actions so you are not the one altering the lot. You are responsible for your own inspection.
